

New from Laufwunder – SENSITIVE BALM with micro granules of SILVER and CERAMIDES

Itching, scaly, inflamed and irritated skin? Sounds familiar? Laufwunder Sensitive Balm with microsilver is a new product launched by Franz Lütticke (manufacturers of Mykored and Laufwunder footcare preparations) to help relieve these symptoms

An effective product to be used by patients suffering from neurodermatitis during eczema free intervals. It has been designed for the daily, intensive care of very sensitive, dry and eczema prone skin. Its innovative ingredients improve moisture content and stabilise the skin’s flora by using micro silver granules (as opposed to the traditional Ethanol, Farnesol, Triclosan....) plus a superior ceramide complex (traditionally would be urea – which over the long term will weaken the epidermis, especially when over 20%)

Why so effective? By incorporating micro silver granules into the product this provides a strong, natural anti microbial action – a resurgence from times past!

4 week trial at The German Dermatological Institute showed:

It is free from perfume and colour and has excellent skin compatibility for those suffering from sensitive skin.

Available in 75ml tubes and 450ml dispenser tubs. Only available through foot specialists in the UK, not available over the counter.
